

Handwritten text on aged, yellowed paper, likely a ledger or account book. The text is written in a cursive script and is organized into columns by vertical lines. The paper shows signs of wear, including tears, stains, and discoloration. The text is arranged in approximately 10 columns across the page. The leftmost column contains the word "given" written vertically. The rest of the columns contain various numbers and words, including "received", "paid", and "balance". The handwriting is somewhat faded and difficult to read in many places due to the age and damage of the document.